FOREWORD

On a plot of land overlooking the Hudson River, the United Nations Building stands as a bulwark against the insecurity of the modern world. Here are gathered together the wisdom and culture of all nations of the globe; here all nations give to one another and all receive.

On a hill overlooking Bedford Basin, Mount Saint Vincent College in its own way imitates the magnificent work of the United Nations. To this center too are brought and shared the wisdom and the culture of the nations of the world. Each girl draws from a unified pool of cultures. Each returns to her own society richer in a knowledge of others and, surprisingly, of herself.

DEDICATION

To Mother Seton we dedicate our 1960 yearbook with its international theme.

To her whose charity reached out to all peoples in all nations, whose Sisters of Charity now teach and nurse throughout the world.

The theme of this book is the theme of her life--Charity--the brotherhood of man and the Fatherhood of God.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Phyllis Thibodeau Student Council President.

The Student Council on the campus acts as an effective liaison between the faculty and students. It is composed of the Student Council President, Prefect of the Sodality, the Presidents and Vice-Presidents of the four classes and the Day Students' Representative. Standing for "fair play" among the students, this elective body maintains order and controls activities on the campus.

Colleen Meahan - Senior Class President, Student Council Vice-President.

Carol Murphy - Junior Class President - Student Council Secretary.

Diane Bignell - Sophomore Class President - Student Council Treasurer.

Helen Danahy - Sodality Prefect

Mary Martin - Day Students' Representative.

Patricia Quinn - Junior Class Vice-President.

Judith Christenson - Sophomore Class Vice-President.

Judith Blackmore - Freshman Class President.

Jo'Ann Grassi - Freshman Class Vice-President.

Sheila Finn, Corner Brook, Newfoundland

GRANTED ADMISSION

ON THEIR PROMISE

OF GOOD FAITH.

Elaine Saulnier - Secretary

Marguerite Foley - Treasurer

A group with an international flavour arrived at the Mount on September 21--the Class of '63. During the first helterskelter days we cheerfully grew to know one another and made lasting friendships. As our days took on a semblance of order we realized that these "first days" would not have been so successful had not everyone worked together -- a minor U.N. in action.

Just Relaxing Sophomores
Margaret Nightingale, Georgia Rozon, Charlotte Miller, Ruth Nelligan, Heather Monnon.

This is the year of transition. Rather unconsciously our feelings and ideas are changing. It is in a way a confusing year, we are not new students and yet neither are we upperclassmen. However, in the flood of work which often threatens to overwhelm us we forget our problems. Slowly, we begin to think of ourselves as full-fledged college students.

The third plateau on our journey to the summit. No longer are we the confused freshmen of two years ago. At last a few of the knots in our problem are beginning to unravel. We now dare to look rather hopefully towards graduation. This is a year crammed with work and worries and yet in a way our most satisfying one.

In October we paused in our studies to celebrate the annual holiday of Foundress Day. This year, in addition to participating in the honoring of our college president, Sister Francis d'Assisi, we were privileged to meet the Apostolic Delegate to Canada, His Excellency, Most Reverend Sebastiano Baggio, D.D. His visit was indeed a highlight of our day.

It also reminded us of another distinguished visitor. In April of last year, we formed a guard of honor to greet His Eminence, Richard Cardinal Cushing, D.D., Archbishop of Boston.

"... thus the person who goes forth to change the shape of the world must be equipped with the proper tools if his task is to be well done."

Mount Saint Vincent College must be congratulated on the splendid manner in which they prepare their students for the job ahead -- physically, mentally and spiritually.

This excellent preparation is reflected in the many outstanding contributions that the graduates of the "Mount" have made for the betterment of mankind.
