— Magnificat —

*My soul doth magnify the Lord.
And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Savior.
Because he hath regarded the humility of His hand-maid:*

for behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

*For He that is mighty hath done great things to me,
and holy is His name.*

And his mercy is from generation unto generations to them that fear Him.

He hath showed might in His arm! He hath scattered the proud in the conceit of their heart.

*He hath put down, the mighty from their seat:
and hath exalted the humble.*

*He hath filled the hungry with good things:
and the rich He hath sent empty away.*

*He hath received Israel His servant:
being mindful of His mercy.*

As He spoke to our Fathers: to Abraham and to his seed for ever.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost.

*As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be,
world without end. Amen.*

Dedication

to our beloved President

SISTER MARIA ROSARIA

on the Golden Jubilee of her Life as a Sister of Charity.

SISTER MARIA ROSARIA

*She gives her all
To make us better in His Eyes . . .
No one who knows her
Can help but love her . . .
Honor her . . .
Respect her . . .
Because she is our Guiding Light.*

"My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord."

*And doth reflect the graces of His Goodness
Which he pours forth
On chosen ones . . .*

*. . . To brighten faces till they glow
With love, and purity, and sheer delight
In living . . .*

*. . . To fill their hearts to overflowing
With knowledge of His Bounty,
In choosing them
From all the millions in the world.*

CHRONICLE

"There's a long, long trail awinding" as we soon discovered when we arrived bag and baggage on September 25 at our new Mount Saint Vincent College. And who did not soon forget the steep hill when the modern new building came into view? Old girls and new girls scurried around and "oh's" and "ah's" echoed through the corridors as mysterious doors were opened and more wonders were discovered. Inez was a one-girl publicity committee for the library as she led unsuspecting girls in, and then gave them a running commentary on the merits of the space, the windows and the book stacks. Needless to say, no one disagreed!

In about a day or two everyone began to settle down and make use of the wonderful classrooms. Sister Frances Carmel's unique layout is still a source of curiosity for some. Why, oh why, does she have those back seats elevated? Could it be that she knows us better than we know ourselves?

October brought crisp, golden days and the formal opening of the college year. The new chapel had not been completed as yet, but a very satisfactory temporary one was in use. We noticed also that Father Goggin was missing, but in his place we discovered genial Father Duffie, a friend of the Mount for a long time. He made us feel very welcome . . . We were becoming more and more a part of the new Mount every day.

Something was in the air around the Mount! Plaid shirts, heavy socks and battered hats came out of mothballs for, of course, the Senior corn boil was in the offing. And such a nippy day it was, but not enough to dampen anyone's spirits. Remember Denise McLeod's graceful ballet? Pavlova must have rolled over in her grave. Micheline proved that she had still another talent, and we realized again what an asset she would be to the college.

There was no relaxing the next day, at least not for the lowly Freshmen. Even the most valiant of them had a look of fear as she scuttled by an upper-classman. Funniest sight: Eleanor Lewis trying to get up the steps with her skirt on upside down . . . that's the disadvantage of having a small waist. Seemingly gentle Maureen Mantin swore vengeance on a group of innocent girls who only wanted to see how well she could kiss the floor. These Freshmen! From Newfoundland's tall Isabel to New Brunswick's tiny Sheila, we were proud of every one of them.

October seemed to be a month of activities. Father Fournier showed a movie to the Mission Club which was most enlightening, and really made us think. On the lighter side, Mr. Frank Crashaw played a return engagement here, and as usual won us with his marvellous acting. We had still another distinguished visitor in the person of Bela Boszormenyi-Nagy who gave a piano recital, and then proved his versatility the following day when he spoke on "Ecclesiastical and Political Conditions in Hungary."

On October 31, the gym bloomed with cornstalks and pumpkins courtesy of the Sophomore Class. The witches and goblins added to the Hallowe'en Dance, and somehow a weary knock-kneed old horse got in and threatened to cause a commotion by falling all over the tables. He was especially attracted to Marie Martin, perhaps by that girlish blush, or was it Davey beside her? Of course everyone had a wonderful time, and didn't the thought of All Saints' Day to come add to the pleasure?

November 12 brought another visitor to the Mount, Baroness Katherine de Hueck. She inspired many with her talk and for a few days it looked as though she might steal some of our girls. Many wardrobes were ransacked and clothes were donated in abundance, when she impressed upon us that all people were not so fortunate as we.

Strains of Music from the gym on November 17 revealed that the Seniors, not to be outdone by the Sophomores, were having a dance. Under Dorothy Grady's efficient supervision, how could it help but be a success? Thus the way was paved for the great night itself, November 27, the Junior Prom.

The feast of the Miraculous Medal had an added significance this year, for, not only was it one more of our Blessed Mother's lovely feast days, but the Junior Prom climaxed the day. This annual affair is always eagerly anticipated by the students, especially by the "freshies" who deserved a second glance from their older sister-students, so resplendent did they appear in their formals. A tiny miraculous medal inserted in each girl's corsage, and similar medals appearing on the lapels of their escorts' coats, gave that significant touch to the gala occasion. The dance programs, designed by the Junior Class, were a delightful surprise to all, for the home towns of the Junior Class members were used as dance titles, and many exhibited their grace in the dancing of the "Glace Bay Glide."

November was not just a month of frivolity, however. Mary Grant and Margaret Martin, accompanied by the Post-Grads attended the C. F. C. C. S. Convention in Toronto. Imagine everyone's pride to learn that Margaret had been elected National President and Ann Streeter, Secretary-Treasurer. The enthusiasm of the girls over the "Bring Back Christ to Christmas" campaign spread to other colleges, so that it was adopted by C. F. C. C. S. members as a national campaign.

Bringing more laurels to the Mount were Lorna Jean Laurence and Doris Thibodeau who debated successfully with Mount Allison University on the subject: "Resolved that the development of the Saint Lawrence Seaway by Canada would be detrimental to the best interests of the Dominion."

And then, suddenly it was President's Day, December 10! Everyone hoped that Sister Rosaria would enjoy the entertainment prepared for her, and by the smile on her face when she heard "Botany, Botany, Botany," we knew we had succeeded. The formal dinner in the evening lent a touch of elegance to a perfect day, and then a special Benediction made us all realize that God was very near us in wishing Sister a happy feast.

Something else was happening around the Mount that seemed to fill the students with zeal. The Christmas Campaign was starting! Under Mary Grant's capable leadership, the girls were grouped together to take Halifax by storm. And they did. A larger crib was erected outside the City Hall and one also appeared in Dartmouth. Both Catholics and non-Catholics agreed that "Bring Back Christ to Christmas" was a wonderful idea. Posters could be seen everywhere; the newspapers echoed the campaign, and even the radio stations carried our plea. Station C. J. C. H. featured some of our Mount girls on a program explaining their ideas of Christmas. They were Mary Grant, Stephania Stukelj, Terese Cossitt, Sheila Dunphy, Micheline Masson. We were indeed proud of them! Other groups of students were invited by several women's organizations in the city to address their meetings and pass across the message of the campaign.

The Christmas recital proved again that "music is well said to be the speech of angels" . . . and also that there is a wealth of talent within our walls. Talent of another sort was displayed by a rotund Santa Claus on the night of the Christmas party. Although many were thoroughly dampened during the carol singing procession, the fat, old man soon warmed and stole their hearts. Everyone was filled with excitement and agreed that it would be an eternity until Christmas.

The Golden Mass on December 19 was a solemn preface to the Christmas pageant. The Good Shepherd girls, who were our guests, were visibly moved by the Pageant, and delighted by the gifts which Mary Grant, a fitting Madonna, presented to them.

But already thoughts were turning to packed suitcases, swift means of transportation, and home! To one and all

"each heart is whispering,
Home,
Home at last!" (Hood)

Those holidays seemed to fly and before we knew it January 3 of a new year was here and so were we. And we were faced with a grim prospect . . . mid-year examinations. Even the gayest girls sobered down . . . the library actually was crowded, and lights burned well in to the night. Of course, there were a few diversions, the most exciting being tobogganing on the hill. And not a mishap either!

The week of examinations did come and pass—finally. There was much rejoicing and little sorrow when the marks were posted, and all resolved to make the new semester the best ever.

January 28 brought something new—"Discussion Week." Small groups were formed to discuss "The Role of the Woman's College." This was done in connection with the Mount's part in C. F. C. C. S. and everyone was enlightened. Sister Maura spoke on "Co-education" to bring the week to a close. Her talk was appreciated by everyone.

More snow and cold weather suggested a skating party. On the night of February 1, the pond behind the Mount welcomed adventurous skaters, and the woods rang with shouts and laughter. There was one tragedy which resulted in a lush black eye for one of our Post-Grads. She recuperated in time for the dance, however. Virginia reels and square sets topped off the evening to make it one we were not soon to forget.

During these weeks we were fortunate enough to have Father Malone of Saint Mary's University lecture on the Labor Encyclicals. Father Malone's lectures are of vast importance to us as future Catholic citizens. Father Czako's lectures on "The History and Meaning of Art" were most enlightening and at the same time entertaining. Both speakers showed vast knowledge of their subjects, making us realize how lucky we are to live in a democracy, and giving us a better opportunity of knowing the beauty of real art.

Debating came to the fore on February 8 with a series of interclass debates sponsored by the Dramatics Society. The first one between the Freshmen and the Sophomores: "Resolved that as women are largely the buyers for the family, they are responsible for the misleading commercial advertisements so common in the public press", resulted in a victory for the Freshmen, Maureen Mantin and Eleanor Lewis. The following Friday brought the Juniors and Seniors together with: "Resolved that intercollegiate athletics, as now conducted, are detrimental to the scholastic standing of the students." This time the Juniors, Mary MacLean and Bryde Warner, won. The finals took place on February 22 with the resolution: "Resolved that co-education in colleges is desirable." The Juniors bowed out to the Freshman Class, and we saw that the Freshmen were really a class to be reckoned with.

Still another debate was coming up! Friday, February 29, brought Dalhousie to challenge the Mount. And such a contest. Marion C. Clarke and Margaret Bonthron upheld the affirmative of the resolution: "Resolved that Germany should be rearmed." And they won, proving themselves to be good winners and the Dal girls to be equally good losers.

The Feast of Saint Thomas was observed by Pax Romana, as St. Thomas is their patron. In Halifax, it was fittingly observed by the celebration of solemn High Mass at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, which was attended by all the Catholic College students of the city. Phi Delta Phi sponsored a lecture "Saint Thomas and Education" given by Sister Frances Carmel, followed by a skit of Saint Thomas presented by Saint Mary's boys. Pertinent book displays were to be seen in the library and philosophy classrooms.

Sure 'n then it was Saint Patrick's Day and "Drama Night" was finally here. Four original and very entertaining plays were presented, accompanied by a skit of Father Lord's "The Road to Connaught" by the Post-Grads. The Seniors easily won with their dramatic presentation of an incident in the life of Saint Maria Goretti entitled "The Blood-Stained Lily." Runner-up was "Starbright", an adaptation of "Captain January" by the Sophomore Class. The Freshman Class presented "Happiness"—a morality play, while the Juniors turned whimsical with "Fit For a Prince." The dance afterwards was enlivened by comments on the plays by the Saint Mary's boys. One blond Irishman still insists that those Post-Grads don't know how to pronounce "Connaught." What do you say, girls? There was also a lottery conducted by the Post-Grads and Seniors. Everyone was glad to see that the floor polisher and satin bed puff went to two former Mount girls.

March 26: Wednesday and Retreat. The day hops came out for dinner and unpacked their clothes in bright comfortable rooms. From the beginning, Father Douglas Daly, S. J., impressed upon us that this was to be a "vacation with God." All the lectures helped us to know God better through His Sacraments, His Mercy and His Goodness. We almost felt as though we were living Christ's life with Him, and realizing at least a fraction of the agony which He went through before His death. Many of the girls went for a "close-up" of Father, and found that he understood their problems. We regretted the close of the retreat, but all resolved to make our lives reflect better the goodness of God.

April did bring showers, many of them! But no one's spirits were dampened for Easter Holidays were on the way. There was not as much gaiety as at Christmas, for already dread exams were rearing their ugly heads. It was a pleasant pause from studies . . . and before we knew it we were back. The Legion of Mary members were in a flurry of excitement for the Curia meeting was to be held at the Mount with Monsignor Curran presiding. Then the Home Economics Department had a chance to show off its wonderful facilities when the general meeting was held here. One visiting lady remarked sadly that she had gone to college ten years too soon.

Now it was time for the Speech Class to take a bow. The Public Speaking Contest on April 17 revealed a group of potential lecturers. Top honors went to Maureen Mantin with Maureen Coyle not far behind.

The doors of Mount Saint Vincent College were opened wide on April 27 for the C.C.S.M.C. Mission Rally. Delegates attended from Saint Peter's, Saint Mary's, Mount Saint Vincent Academy, Saint Patrick's Girls and Boys High, Convent of the Sacred Heart, Saint Patrick's Veterans, and the Halifax Infirmary. Special speakers were Bishop Leverman and Monsignor Curran. More than three hundred crusaders attended solemn Benediction which was followed by an enjoyable social hour.

April came to a close with the basketball tournament sponsored by the Athletic Association. The games were exciting and everyone was glad to see the Oland Trophy go to the Sophomore Class.

It was May and music filled the air. Not the music of whispering trees and babbling brooks though, but violins, and pianos, and melodious voices. It was the night of the Spring Musicale! The performers could again be proud of themselves.

A great treat was in store for us on May 8 when Father Andrei Ourousoff of Fordham University spoke at Queen Elizabeth Auditorium. The lecture was sponsored by Phi Delta Phi as the second annual lecture of their promised series. Since Father Ourousoff is the only living Russian Jesuit he was well acquainted with Russian problems and presented them in a most captivating manner. We were doubly pleased to have him celebrate Mass the following morning in the beautiful Byzantine Rite. That was an event we would not soon forget!

May 14. The awful day was here at last. It was almost a relief to encounter the first examination paper. The days were refreshingly cool for the first part of the week and then the heat came. Tuesday was a glorious day to end writing and begin to enjoy living!

"Here comes the Navy" was the cry as the U.N.T.D.'s descended upon the Mount to attend the first of the Commencement week festivities. Many a cadet was selected to escort a fair young Mount girl to the Prom.

Wednesday, May 21, the graduates were guests of the Alumnae Executive at Ashburn Golf Club, and the following day, they were the center of attention again at the Class Day Exercises. Every year Class Day seems to become more beautiful . . . the daisy chain . . . the planting of a tree by the Senior Class . . . the prophecy and wills . . . all make one realize what it means to be a Mount girl.

Friday, not to be outdone by our Navy friends, we took to the sea. And such a wonderful Harbor cruise it was! The only worry was how to keep hair smooth for the big night, but somehow they did. The Bedford Room was gay with music and laughter. Everyone looked forward to the Grand March and the Graduates Waltz—Needless to say everyone looked radiant, especially the Grads. More and more we realized how much we would miss them.

Down to the sea again, in buses this time, for the Freshmen outing. The tang of the Herring Cove air captured us and the lobster supper turned us into real "Herring Covers."

At the At Home on Sunday parents and friends were given an inside view of the Mount. The graduates were almost ready to take their places in the world so they were being "feted" by all.

Monday opened with solemn Baccalaureate Services celebrated by Most Reverend A. B. Leverman D. D. The sermon was given by Reverend William V. McCarthy, D.D. The Convocation exercises commenced at 3 p. m. Many proud parents were present to see their daughters receive their degrees, and there were a large number of post-graduates too. A very stirring address was made to the graduates by Peter J. O'Hearn, Q.C., deputy Crown Prosecutor. And then everything was over . . . the graduates were with their parents and friends . . . the halls were empty . . . we were going home and we were not so happy after all!

"Earth's noblest thing, a woman perfected."

Sophistication and simplicity . . . effervescence and reticence . . . wonder and amusement . . . gaiety and seriousness—so is Denyse. The essence of femininity, she is a joy to behold . . . never satisfied with an evasive answer, she wants to know the "why" of things—this makes for an avid student especially in doing "theses" . . . petite in stature only . . . her interests range from knitting socks to the ballet . . . always has time for fun . . . our best wishes go to our classmate from Quebec.

"And that smile, like sunshine, Darts into many a sunless heart . . ."

One of the lights radiating from the Secretarial department . . . interested in the human side of business . . . generous, genial, gay, her presence marks an atmosphere of friendliness . . . capable President of the Sociology Club . . . a conversationalist with a flair for witticism . . . loves people of every type and temperament . . . ready to lend an ear to the more practical things of life . . . ready to capture every opportunity to make life more comfortable—"Oh dear! those mental reservations.") . . . always willing to lend a helping hand . . . colorful career ahead.

"Know how sublime a thing it is to suffer and be strong."

A character of beauty, sincerity, integrity . . . radiates simplicity . . . strong-willed . . . "a woman among women" . . . behind her a wealth of experience. memories ne'er forgotten . . . sacrificial beyond question . . . has lived heroism . . . knowing the value of missionary activity, has been able to put more into the work . . . as Mission Club President, produced the zeal and enthusiasm which fired others to respect and love for this act of Christian charity . . . member of the Philosophy Club, she has the stature of a philosopher . . . precise and exact thinker . . . logical and lucid in explanation . . . possesses a fine sense of humor . . . fascinates with her "tales from home" . . . is still loved in Quebec . . . has deeply moved Halifax audiences in her "Bring Back Christ to Christmas" talks . . . is instantly attractive . . . admired by all . . . continually making new conquests. Her potentialities are not yet exhausted.

BRIEF ALUMNAE BRIEFS

Class of '51: Eight of last year's Seniors reappeared this year at the Mount. Studying Education were Lillian Bates, the twins Mary and Terese Cossitt, Sheila Dunphy, Marie Martin, Louisette Robitaille and Marie Todd, accompanied by Florence Whitby in Library Science. Peggy Carroll was also studying Education at Saint Francis Xavier University.

Our dietitians, Claire Martin and Rosemary Martel, are serving their internship at the Infirmary and the Children's Hospital, respectively. Incidentally, Rosemary became engaged to Danny Brown last May. Marie Hurlburt is also on the engaged list.

Jean Curran displays her talents as secretary at Saint Mary's University, and Velma Dillman is pursuing "higher education" literally in Massachusetts, where she is on the way to becoming an airline hostess.

Anne Marie MacCormack was recently appointed assistant-editor of the Catholic Register. Her contributions to the Register and to Integrity make the Mount proud of her start in Journalism.

Class of '50: Three of the '50 graduates are now novices: Sister Mary Harriet (Patricia Lahey), Sister Mary Christopher (Joan MacLeod), and Sister Irene Therese (Evelyn White). Out on teaching careers are Isabel Aubie, Joy Lake, Mona Williams, Mary Mancini and Greta Conrad. Incidentally, Greta received her first Holy Communion in the College Chapel on January 20, 1952.

Irene Currie is employed by the Government at New Waterford, and two other girls are in law offices: Mary Margaret Higgins, working for her father in Newfoundland and Marie Ouellette in Dover, New Hampshire.

The treasurer of the J. L. E. Price Construction Company of Montreal has found an able assistant in Joan MacQuarrie.

Two Newfoundland girls working in their home province are Edwina Fitzgerald and Margaret Penny.

Marjorie Dee will graduate soon from the Maritime School of Social Work, and Catherine Veniot finished a secretarial course at Sacred Heart Academy in Bathurst.

Helen Smith is working at the Halifax Dockyards Limited.

Wedding bells rang in August 1951, for Pat Delaney and Austin Davis. We wish them happiness.

Class of '49: Professed at Easter were three '49 graduates: Sister John Cecelia (Margaret Malloy), Sister Joseph Maria (Catherine McGowan) and Sister Evelyn Genevieve (Joan McDonald). Also professed was Sister Leo John (Vivian Mancini). Sister Maria Goretti (Mary Henley) became a novice.

Sister Catherine John (Betty Doolen) is teaching at Saint Anne's in Glace Bay together with Sister Marie Angela (Patricia Mullins).

The new Saint Francis Xavier Junior College at Sydney is fortunate in having Jean McPhee as registrar.

Margaret Kelley is now living in Brooklyn, N. Y. and Lucille McFarland is a secretary with the Nova Scotia Research Foundation.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James Willis (Marie Brennan) on the birth of a darling baby.

"... He hath filled the hungry with good things. ."

*And laid open to them the wonders
Of the world;*

*He hath shown them
The love of books, the love of Truth,
The joy of friendship and all things good.*

*He hath filled their hearts with beauty,
Strength and wholeness,*

*And made of them a fitting product of His hand
To spread the glory of his Love and Life
Wherever they may go.*

— LIMITED —

It Pays To Advertise!

YOUR merchandise, the quality of your particular article, or your location for sale, cannot go around on wheels to the homes of the buyers, so they must travel on the printed page.

THE job of the Maritime Photo Engravers Limited through their artists, is to SHOW-- to complete the selling practice by adding that indispensable note which gives impulse to buying, and with pictures and illustrations, enables buyers to see and study merchandise, etc., at their leisure.

"YOUR STORY IN PICTURES LEAVES NOTHING UNTOLD"
