SAINT
VINCENT
UNIVERSITY

Journal

A Backward Glance

Mount Saint Vincent Academy was established by the Sisters of Charity in 1873 as both an elementary and secondary school. By 1914 Halifax had grown substantially and along with it came the demand for more post-secondary institutions. As a result, the Mount entered into a 25-year agreement with Dalhousie University whereby the Mount offered the first two years of a bachelor degree and Dalhousie offered the final two years. The degree was then granted by Dalhousie.

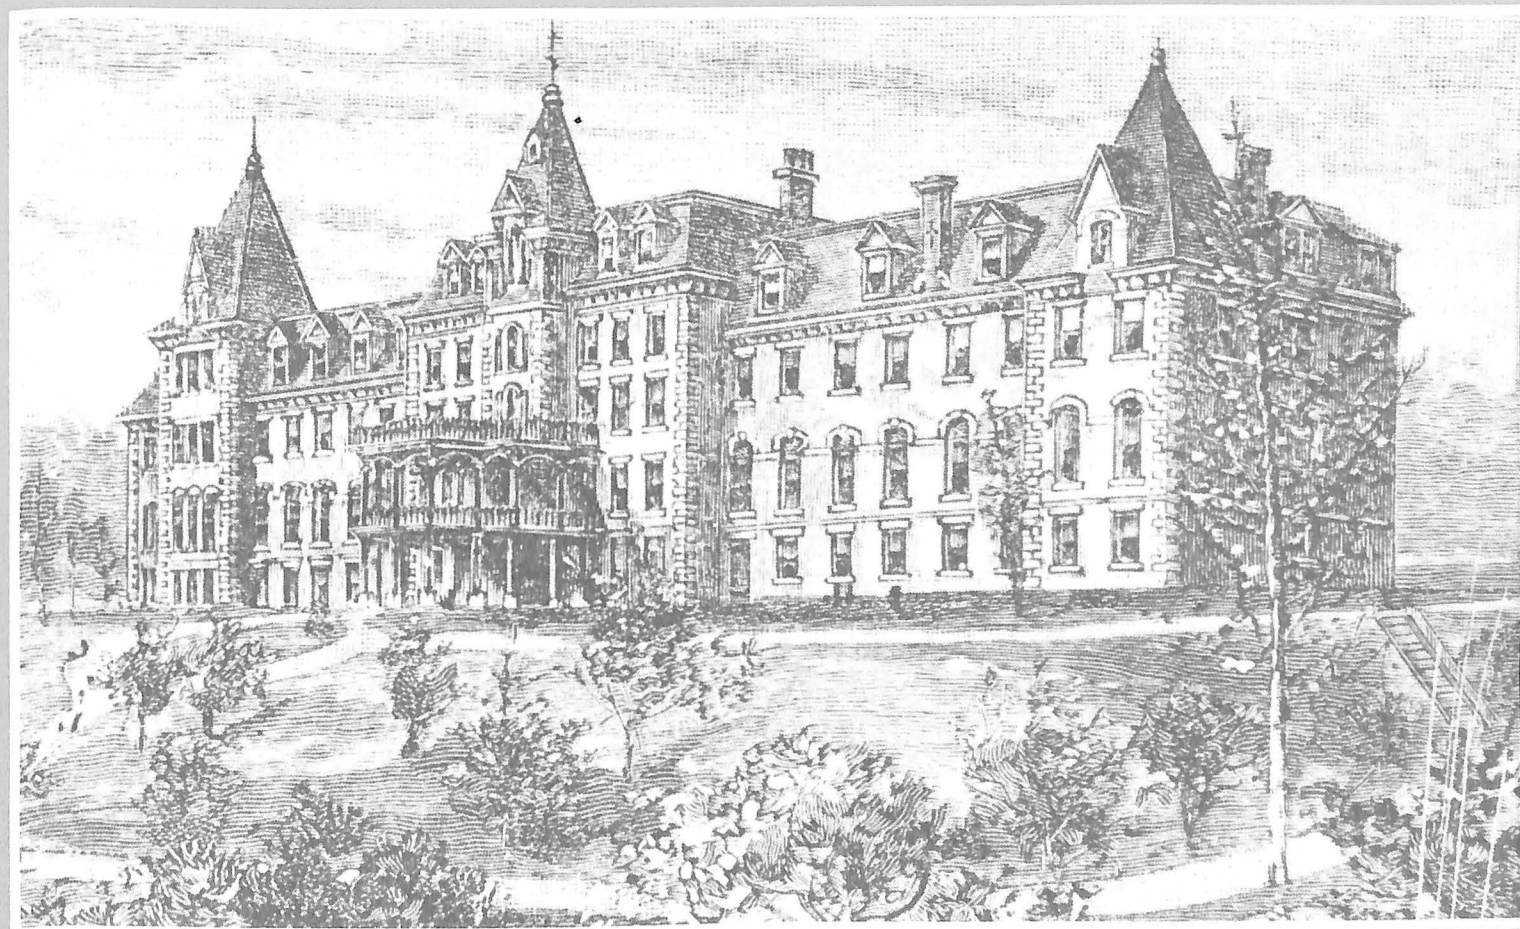

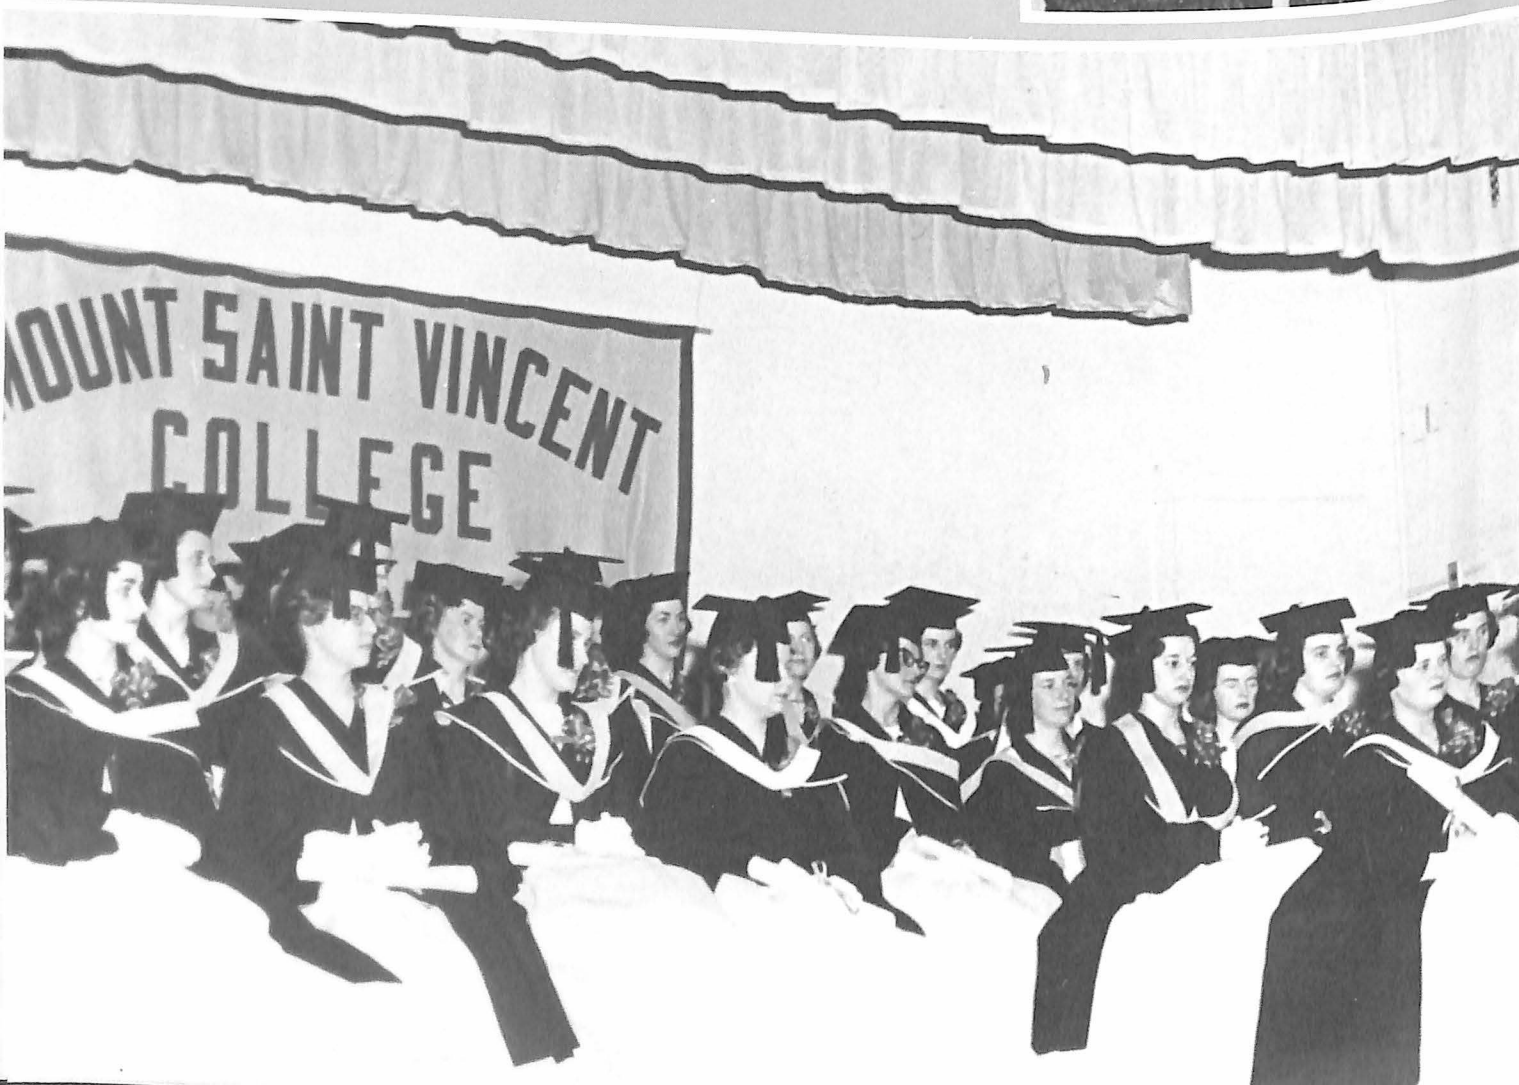

The Nova Scotia legislature awarded Mount Saint Vincent with a college charter in May, 1925. M.S.V.C. was then able to grant its own degrees in the arts, science, and music.

On January 31, 1951 the entire College complex including the Motherhouse was destroyed by fire. In keeping with its resilient nature the Mount was still able to accept its traditional influx of September students that same year. The new building, Evaristus Hall, was the beginning of the growth that followed.

In 1966 the college charter underwent a revision which renamed the College Mount Saint Vincent University. Also, in that year Assisi Hall and Rosaria Hall were added. Seton Academic Centre was opened in 1971, boasting classrooms, offices, an Art Gallery, and a 1000-seat theatre in the round. A new five-year agreement between Dalhousie and the Mount, on an association-as-equals basis was signed admitting undergraduate men for the first time.

The Birches, five townhouse residences, were built in 1972, and Rosaria Centre was officially opened on March 14, 1981.

Office of the President

To the Graduating Class of 1985

Congratulations! You are graduating in a very special year in the history of Mount Saint Vincent University. In 1925 the Sisters of Charity succeeded in their struggle to win full degree-granting privileges for the Mount. Canada's first and only university primarily dedicated to the ideals of higher education for women was firmly established.

Sixty years later, it behooves us not only to remember the struggles of a woman's institution to gain acceptance and credibility, but also to re-dedicate ourselves to maintaining the traditions, aims and goals of this unique university. The goals, as defined by the Sisters in 1925, remain consonant with those of the feminist world that women and men of vision are aspiring to create in 1985.

If a new world of hope is to replace the present one of doom, you as the Diamond Jubilarians of Mount Saint Vincent University, must with the faith of the early Sisters, commit yourselves to those tested goals of scholarship, service and sacrifice. You must go beyond taking courses at the Mount, to taking charge of your lives and your society.

I look to you graduates to become the leaders, the missionaries of a new age that celebrates life in all its diversity and richness. Rid yourselves, then, of the shackles of security and comfort. University education, to be meaningful, should inspire you to challenge conventional wisdom. To live fully and freely, life demands risk, adventure, vision.

Most educational institutions tend to imbue their graduates with a traditional view of adventure coming from outdated myths which entrench a conquering mentality. The centuries ahead require non-traditional leaders who are committed not to conquering but to nurturing.

The essence of the Mount experience should be that of awareness - awareness that our planetary society hurtles, unless checked, toward disaster. We face environmental destruction, genetic manipulation, and indeed global extinction. Many persons respond to these problems by despair and a variety of forms of escapism; others, accept the challenge of working for positive change. As graduates of the Mount, I would hope that you would all dedicate yourselves to spreading a realistic message of hope for the earth.

1985 is a year of celebration for our University. It is also the end of the United Nations Decade for Women - a decade that has given women, the world over, a new image of strength and courage. May your graduating year be one in which you will feel revitalized and renewed in the deepest sense. Such renewal can make you active participants in the creative birthing of a more promising global society.

Kindest regards to all in the Class of '85.

E. Margaret Fulton
President

Coat of Arms

The Coat of Arms of the University is based on the Coat of Arms of Venerable Elizabeth Seton, foundress of the Congregation of the Sisters of Charity. It bears three silver crescents within the "treasure." The same "treasure" is found on the Coat of Arms granted to Nova Scotia in 1625, so the Community Foundress and the Province are represented. The three peaks on the shield signify the name of the University, "Mount" Saint Vincent. The book, a symbol of learning, is positioned between two maple leaves - the emblem of Canada. Above the book is a dove, symbolizing the Holy Spirit, and indicating that knowledge is only a means to Wisdom, the highest gift of God.

The colors of the shield are blue and gold. Gold symbolizes the divinity of our Lord and blue is for our Blessed Lady. The periphery of the Coat of Arms is royal blue and azure, the dual blues of Mount Saint Vincent University.

Yearbook

Just as Mount Saint Vincent University has grown and changed so has the appearance, content, and name of the yearbooks produced to commemorate each passing year.

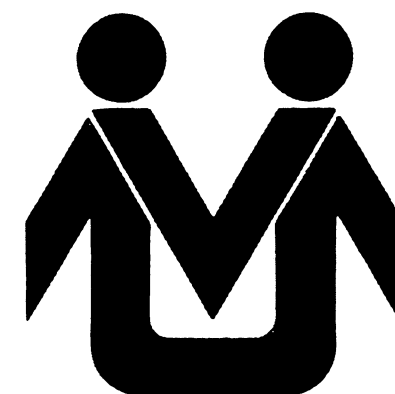

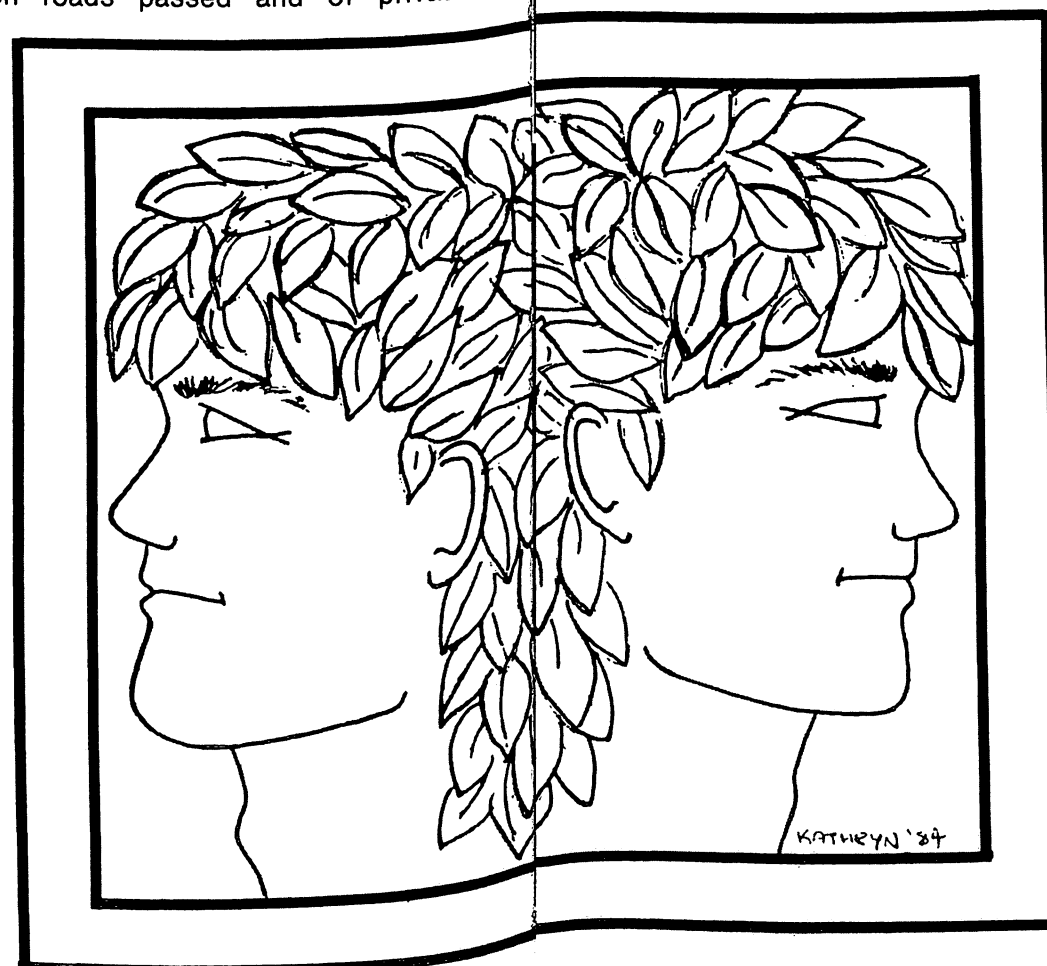

Names of past volumes have included: Kappa Kronicle, Phoenix, Memories, and Katina. The present title, Janus, has only been used since 1976, but its relevance should assure it a long life on the cover of the book of memories of our years at Mount Saint Vincent university.

Janus was the Roman God of beginnings, openings, entrances, doorways; of public gates through which roads passed and of private doors. Being the God of Gates, he was naturally the God of departures, returns, and by extension, the God of all means of communication.

History

As a yearbook then, Janus represents a departure from the university, as we achieve our goal of graduation, and also a means of returning to it, through memories captured in the words and photos found here. We look to the Janus insignia as a symbol of our progression to the future, and the many thresholds we have yet to cross, and as a symbol of those doors through which we have already passed gaining confidence, wisdom, and pride.

University Logo

The design of a new symbol, to represent the University along with the Heraldic Crest, was approved in January 1971.

The symbol, created by Eagles and Radcliffe Ltd., skillfully combines the letters "M", "V", and "U" to provide a distinctive pattern that is visually appealing and easily remembered. The addition of two circles above this pattern immediately adds warmth and the awareness that the symbol portrays as well.

This, it was felt, was the essence of a university; young people, alert people who are working together towards common objectives.

Motto

Veritas Ad Deum Ducit is translated as "Truth Leads to God". It is only one of the many aspects of M.S.V.U. that poses greater meaning for those who can appreciate its origin. The motto asserts the religious concerns which inspired the foundation of the University.

Fellow Graduates:

You have been waiting for this book for months. Finally it arrives, you unwrap it quickly, open it, and what do you find but a picture of me and a message! I know, you want to get on with the important stuff - looking at the 1985 edition of Janus - so I will be brief.

1984/85 was a special year for us because it marked the conclusion of our years at Mount Saint Vincent University. No longer are we part of the trudge-up-the-hill crowd, the cafeteria or saceteria crew, or the run-down-from-residence bunch. We have gone our separate ways and are making new starts in different directions. Wherever you are and whatever you are doing, I hope this book brings back many memories of your graduating year.

Being President of the Student Union gave me an opportunity to become involved in all aspects of University life. Our Council tried to ensure that something was offered for everyone. No matter what your interests or your time schedule, there was a society or a sport or an event for you. You may not have taken part in everything but involvement in any area added another dimension to your University life.

This year the Mount is celebrating its sixtieth year as a degree-granting institution. When we look back over those sixty years, we see just how many changes our University has undergone in that time. Sixty years from now we will shake our heads in wonder at the changes which have taken place since we were students at Mount Saint Vincent University. Times will have changed but your yearbook will always remind you of what we were in 1985.

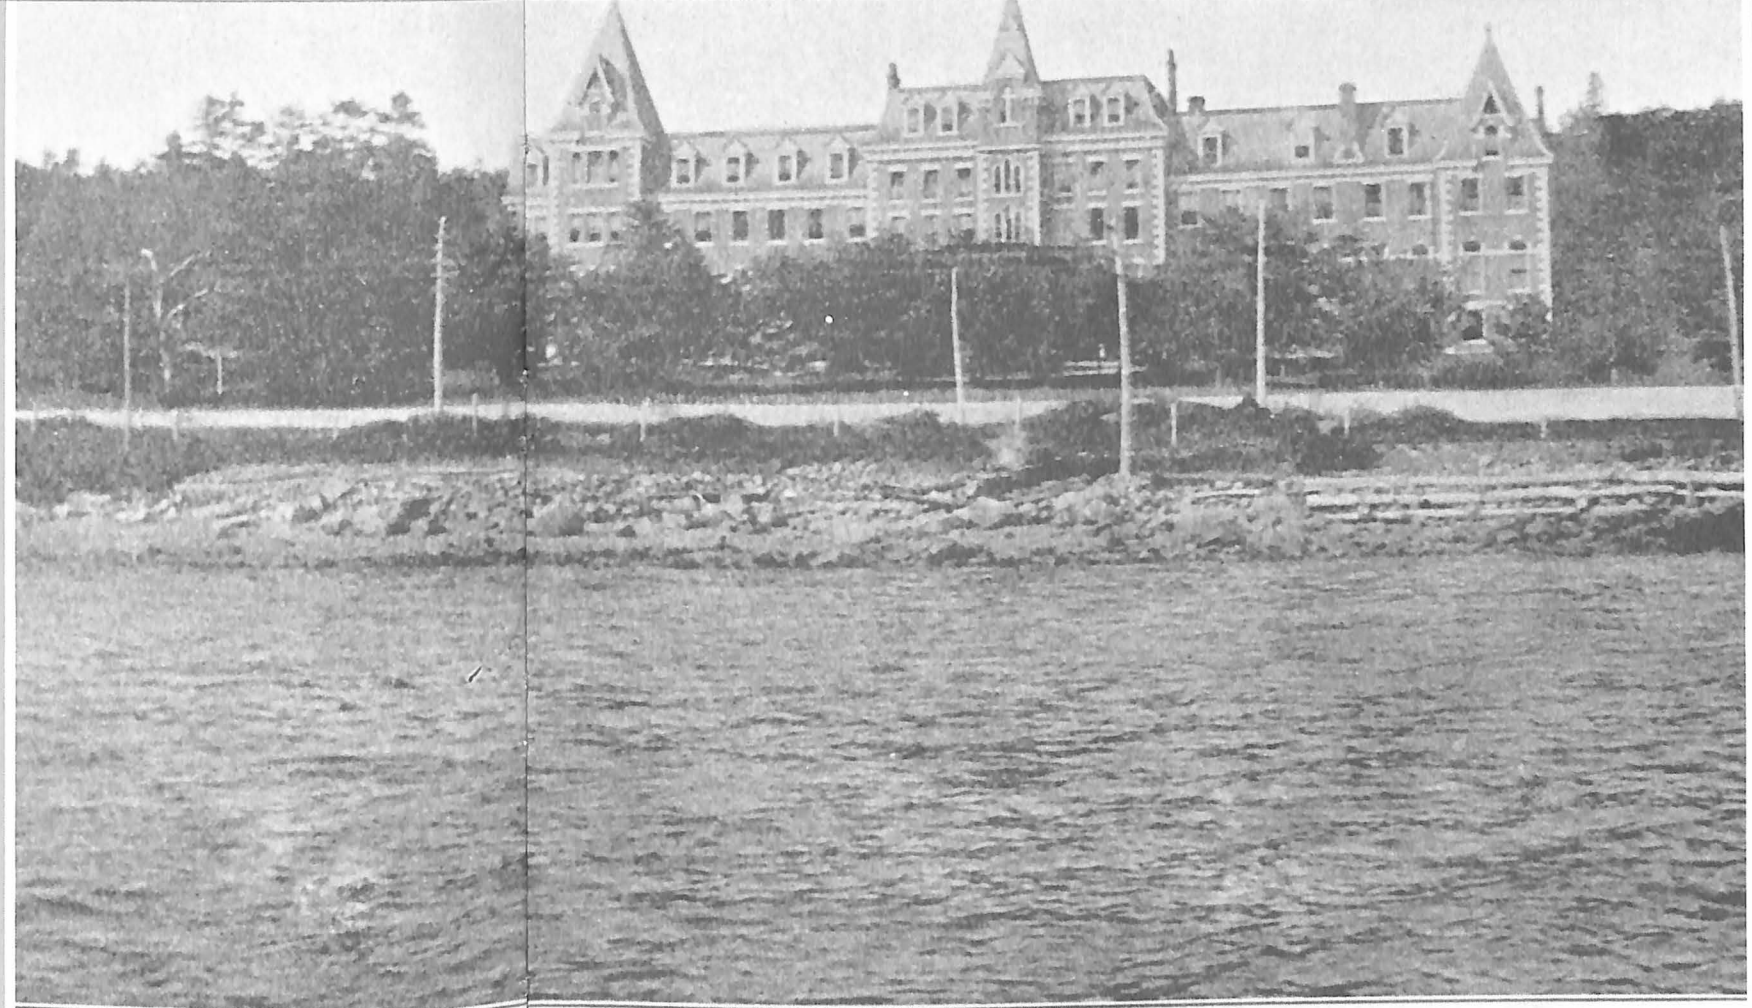

Best wishes for the future!

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

As this chapter of our education comes to a close, we are about to turn the page into new ones. I hope the new pages of the future chapters of your lives will be happy ones. Congratulations to the Graduates of 1985 and a Bon Voyage!

It is my hope that Janus '85 will bring many warm memories from this chapter of your life to your mind. Protect and care for this book and in 20 years the memories will be as meaningful as the day you graduated.

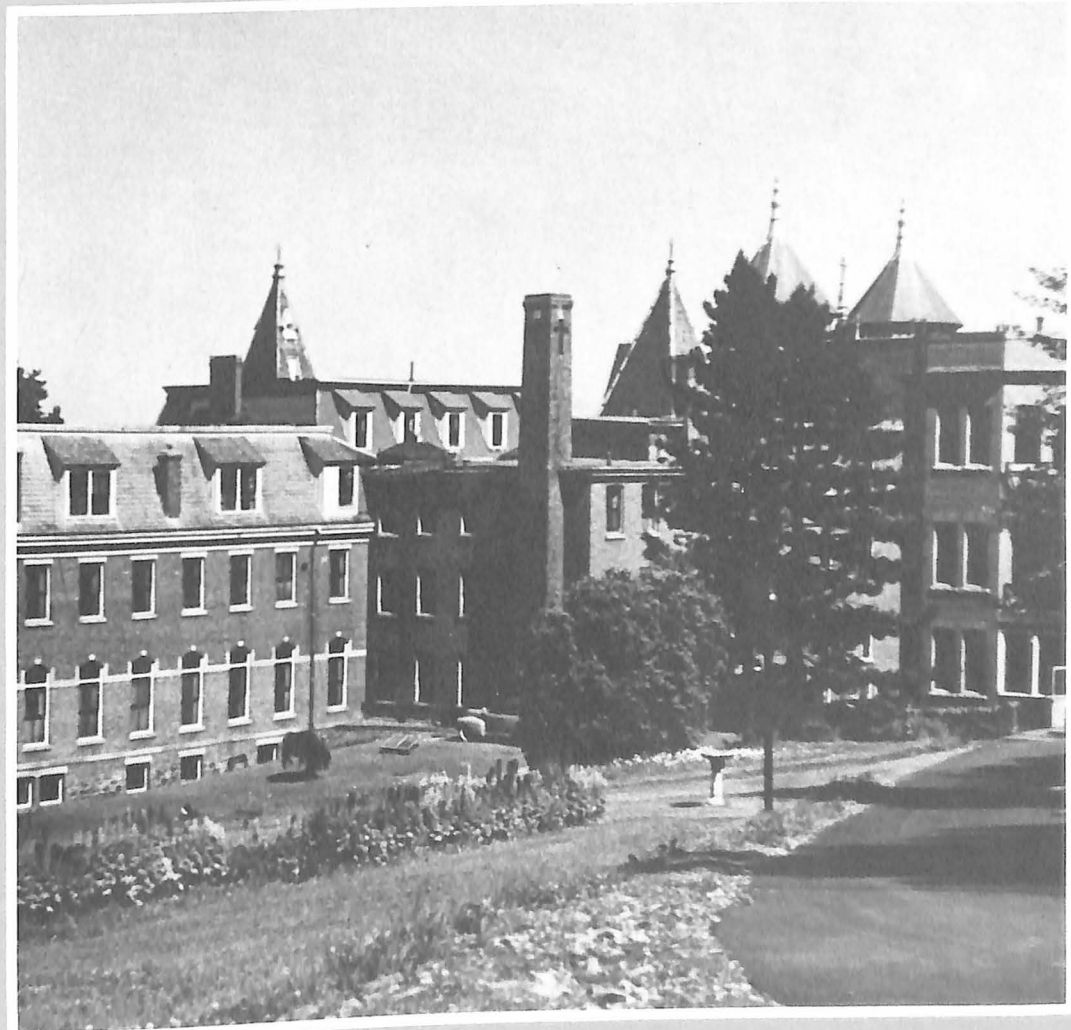

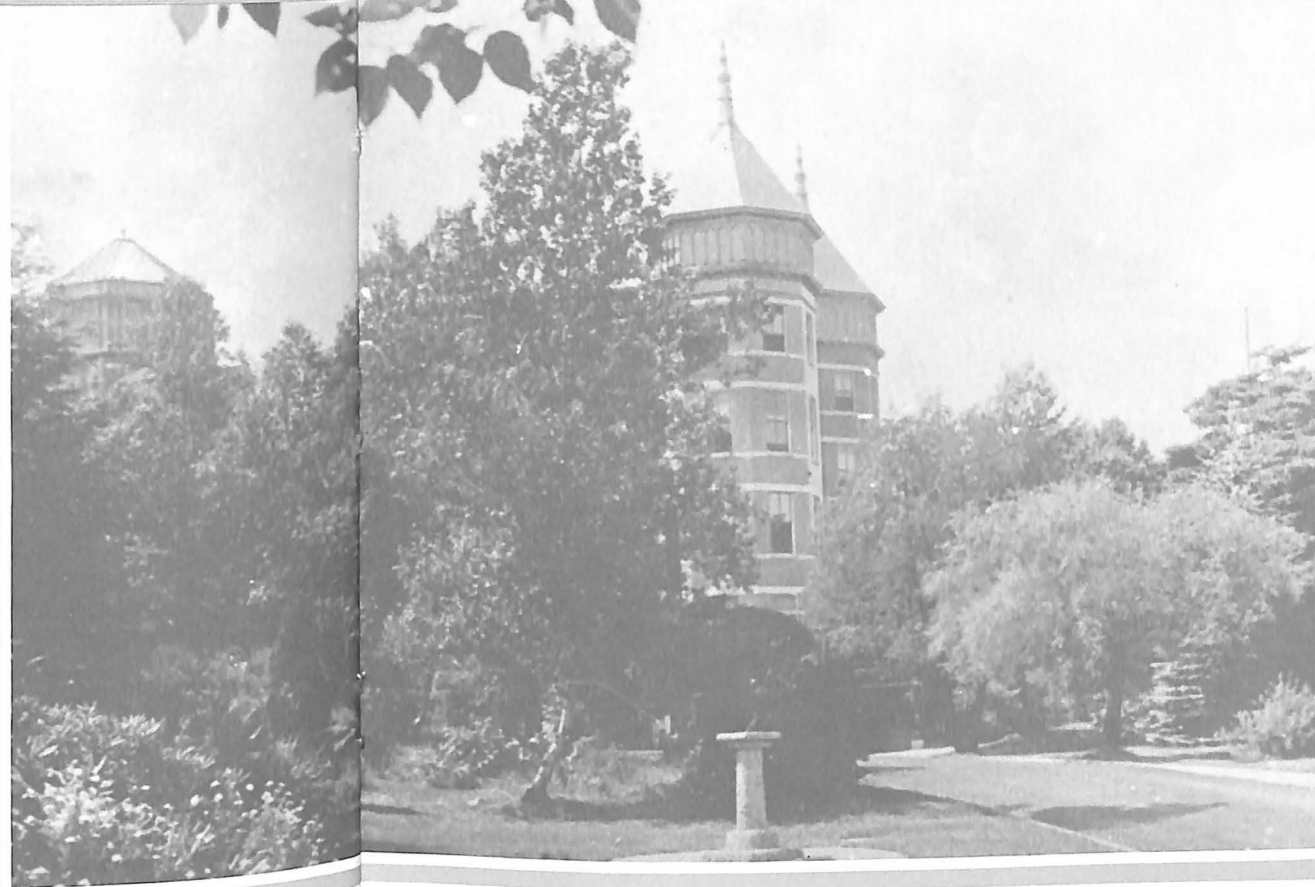

Some of you may know that I am not the original editor of Janus '85. Because of problems and the subsequent resignation of the previous editor, I found myself with a big job to do in a limited time. My apologies for the delay in receiving your books, and any omissions or mistakes that may have been made.

We hope you enjoy Janus '85!

Through the Years

KEEP ON SEARCHING

A woman's place is where she wants it to be
That is what you've meant to me
It's time we turned around to see what brought us here
Sixty years of love
That we are so proud of
Spirit of love at this university.

Chorus:

At Mount Saint Vincent, we know
That you are here for us
And to make us strong
You stretch out your woman's hand
And at the Mount we trust
The next sixty years will see
The steady search for truth at this university.

It's here our eyes and ears are opened to the world
It's here we leave our fear far behind
We find that we belong no matter what our path shall be
And we learn to share these gifts and more
From what we have received.

It's here we learn that when we reach out our hands
We open doors, not only for ourselves
And we can do so many things, each one of us in our own way
To take the Mount traditions and give them life today.

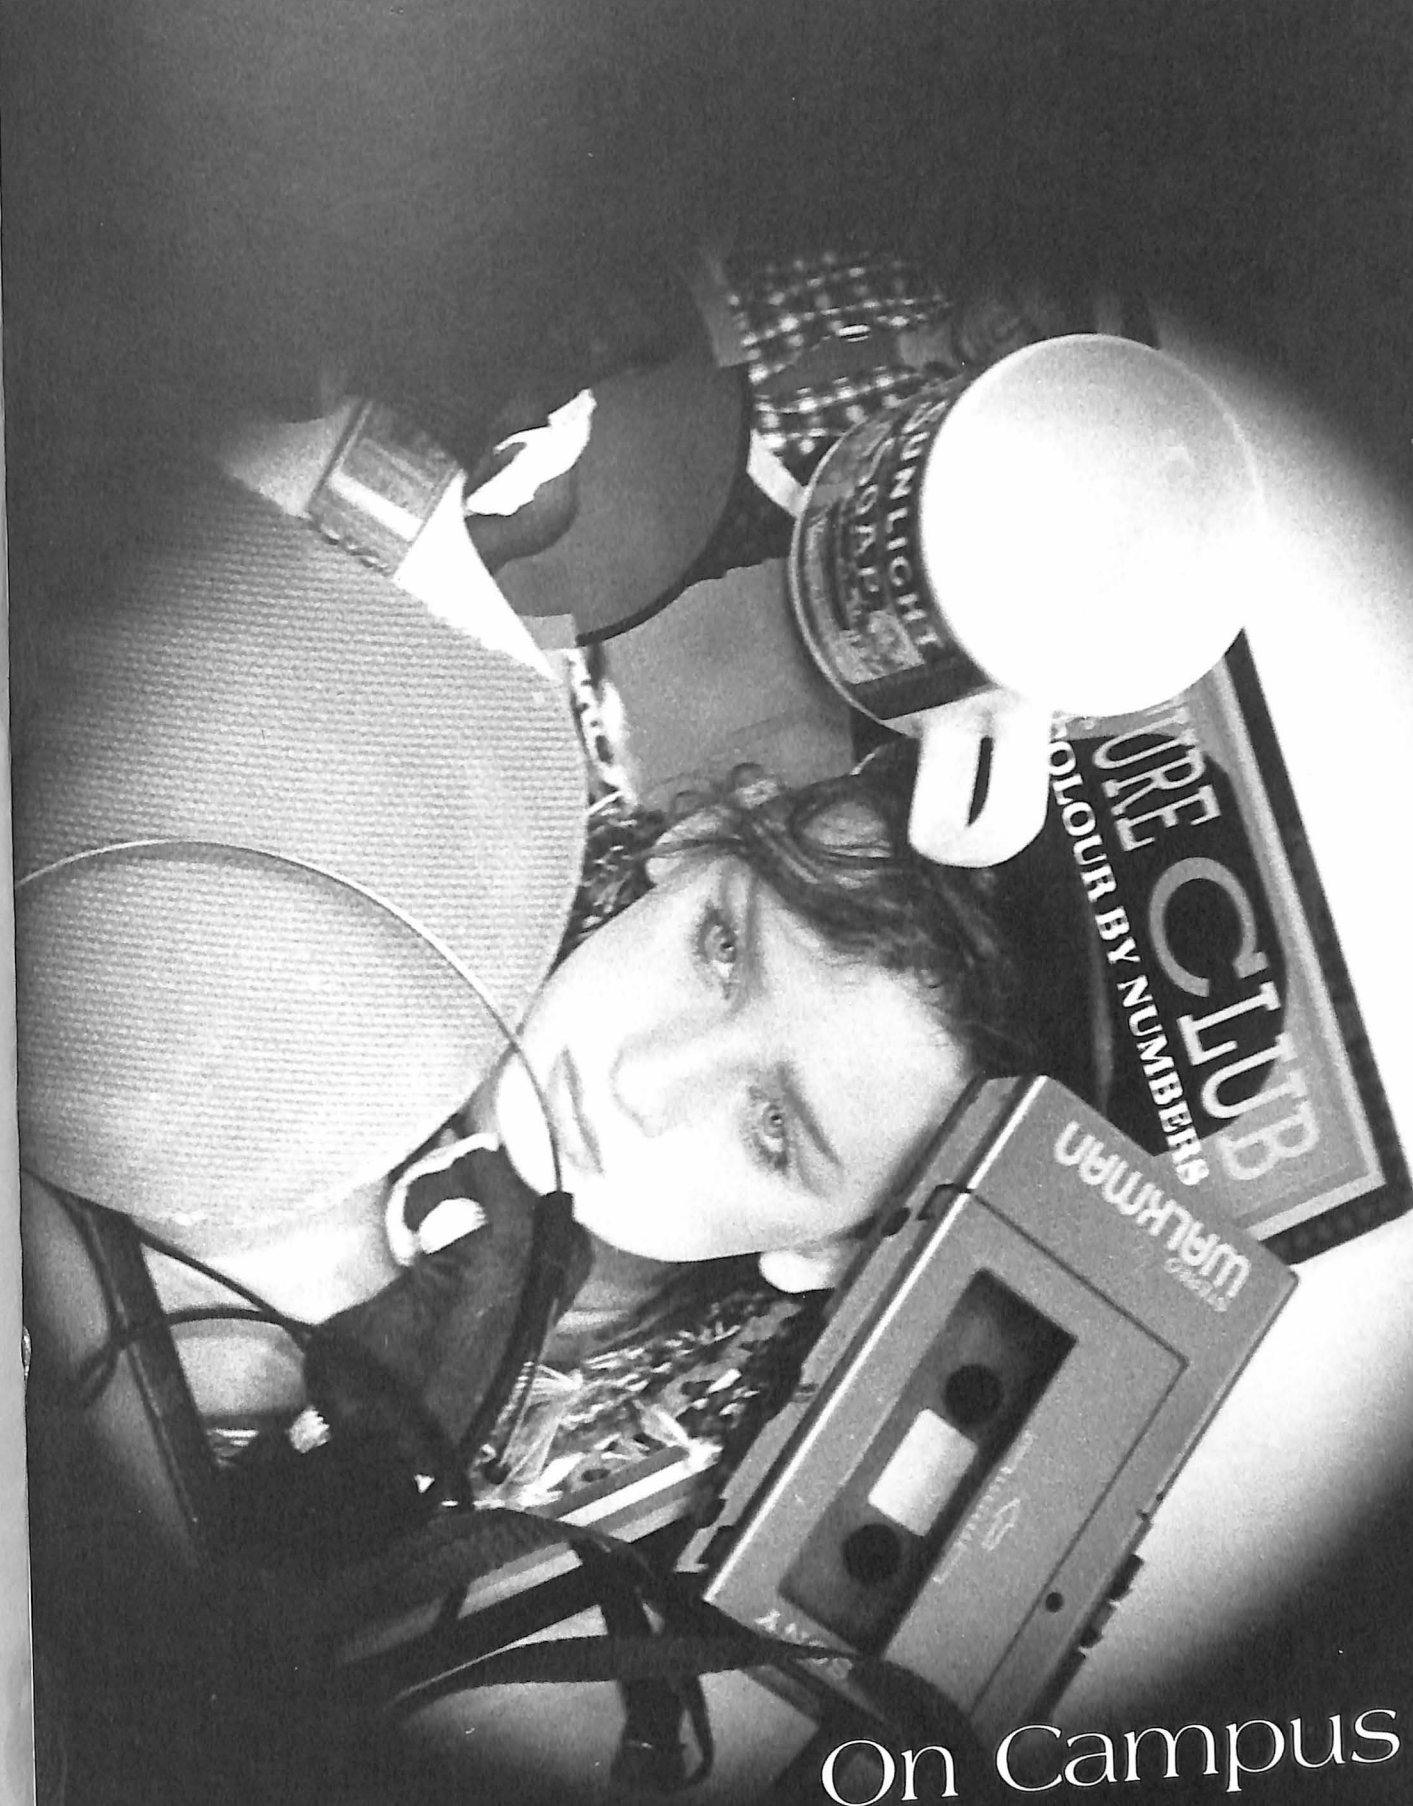

(Chorus)

We're gonna keep on searching
We're gonna keep on searching
Gonna keep on searching
Gonna keep on searching for the strength to open every door
Gonna keep on searching
Gonna keep on searching for the strength to open every door.

We're going to carry on
What sixty years have seen
The steady search for the truth that leads to God.

A woman's place is where she wants to be
And that is what you've meant to me
That's what the Mount has meant to me.

This song was commissioned by the University for the Mount's 60th Anniversary. Written by Sandy Greenberg, KEEP ON SEARCHING befits the Mount's long tradition of music.

Graduation List

Posted at 9:00 a.m., Monday, 6th May on the Evaristus Bulletin Board across from the Business Office. No information on graduates will be released prior to the posting of the list.

Please note: Should a failure, incomplete, etc. prevent your graduation, the Registrar's Office will attempt to notify you prior to the 6th May.

Tickets

As soon as the list is posted on Monday the 6th, graduates may pick up their convocation package (containing guest tickets and other information) from the Alumnae Office in Evaristus.

Each graduate may have up to three tickets. Extra tickets, if available, must be requested but will be subject to space available in the Auditorium.

Academic Dress

Graduates wear gown and hoods, but no caps. Appropriate attire is rented according to the information you supply. ARRANGEMENTS MUST BE MADE IN ADVANCE - there is no "reserve" of gowns on hand. If you have not ordered a gown by 30 March, you cannot attend Convocation ceremonies. Don't face disappointing your family: order on time!

Graduating Women should wear their gowns over a knee-length dress or skirt, with black shoes and neutral coloured hose. Slacks are inappropriate. DO NOT bring a purse to the Convocation ceremonies - there is no safe place to leave it during the ceremony and you don't want to carry it in the procession.

Graduating Men should wear their gowns over a dark suit or jacket with dark trousers. Black shoes are preferred.

Graduation Fee $30 Required of all graduates whether receiving their degrees at a ceremony or in absentia.

HISTORY OF MOUNT SAINT VINCENT UNIVERSITY

Mount Saint Vincent University is unique in the British Commonwealth. Built by women for women, its roots go back to 1873 when the Sisters of Charity established an academy for girls on the shores of the Bedford Basin.

In 1914, an agreement was signed with Dalhousie University allowing the Mount to give the first two years in a bachelor program, the final two years and degree to be given by Dalhousie.

In 1925, the Nova Scotia legislature awarded Mount Saint Vincent College the right to grant its own degrees in arts, science and music. A revision to the charter in 1966 made the college a university, and men were first admitted in 1971.

The Mount considers the educational needs of women to be a priority, and therefore remains particularly sensitive to the changing needs of women in society. Further, it believes there is a place for a university aimed primarily at the higher education of women, and dedicated to promoting an environment characterized by a Catholic tradition and a size that permits a high degree of personalized instruction.

This is the Mount's 60th year as a full degree-granting institution and special events have been planned around this occasion with emphasis on the United Nations' Year of Youth, the end of the UN's Decade of Women and National Universities Week.
