MOUNT SAINT VINCENT UNIVERSITY

The Roman God of beginnings, openings entrances, doorways; of public gates through which roads passed and of private doors. Being God of the gates, he naturally God of departures, returns, and be the extension the God all means of communication.

We look to his insignia as our key to the future, through the door of graduation, yet always reminiscent of our years at Mount Saint Vincent University.

Office of the President

To the Graduating Class of 1983:

Congratulations to all of you who have completed successfully the requirements of the degree of your choice. You have demonstrated a dedication and determination during your years of study which will serve you well in the future. When I welcomed you to the University three or four years ago, I was able to do so with enthusiasm. As we entered the decade of the 80s, we looked forward to the challenge of change. Changes we have experienced, but most of them, on the surface at least, are of a disquieting nature. The realities of the 80s are increasing economic difficulties, wars and rumours of wars on the global scene, and escalating environmental and social problems. These conditions can contribute to a sense of insecurity.

All too often people in general tend to respond to such problems with a feeling of helplessness and discouragement, or by living a half life of apathy and indifference. Students graduating from University, on the other hand, should realize that life is more than security. It is adventure and risk, and involves accepting the challenge of the problems ahead.

The ultimate purpose of higher education is not so much to train you to get a job that permits you to live a secure, mundane life, but rather it is to imbue you with a set of ideals, to provide you with work habits that will last your lifetime, and to implant in you the kind of discipline that will help you transform any weakness into strength.

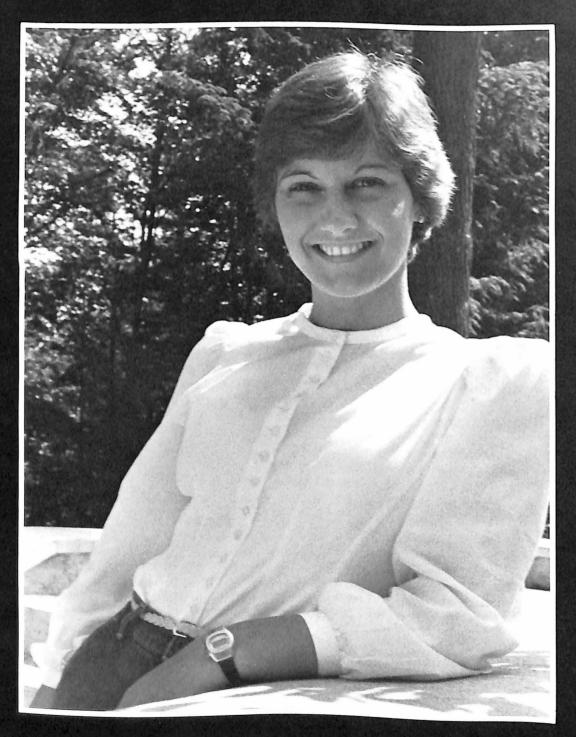

Robertson Davies once stated that "the purpose of learning was to save the soul and enlarge the mind". If you perceive your education in those terms, then you will be equipped to meet the challenges of the future with enthusiasm and commitment.

I hope your time at Mount Saint Vincent University has given you the courage of your convictions so that you may be the evidence of what we say this institution stands for. Keep in your minds a sense of your alma mater and know that heartiest good wishes are extended to you always.

E. Margaret Fulton

STUDENT UNION

Fellow Graduates,

Graduation day has come and gone. Two, three, four or even five years of study and it's all over in just one day. Is it really over? No! We still have all our fond memories of our University years; the friendships we will always cherish, the crazy things we did when we were "Young and Foolish", the activities which were successful due to our time and involvements, various aspects of residence life, the classes we skipped to finish up assignments and term papers and the sheer panic around exam time. Some of these moments we may choose to forget but most of them we will always remember.

We must also reflect on how we carry these memories shared by others out into our individual lives and careers. We all have different goals and expectations, so our paths must divide and carry us on our way. Being part of this Class of 1983 does not mean that we have obtained a certain amount of knowledge and information but rather we have gained an awareness of the vast unknown and broadened our horizons. We must take with us the experience and knowledge we have obtained during our University years as we pursue our careers and use it to achieve our individual goals.

It is a scary moment for all of us, leaving the Mount Saint Vincent community where we have finally become familiar with the campus, the professors, the procedures and where we have made lasting friendships, to go out on our own to a life which holds many uncertainties. Until now, we have looked upon graduation as our ultimate goal and felt that if we were able to fill out all the forms, order a grad ring, get grad photos taken and finally, pass all of our exams, that we have achieved this goal.

For most of us, this is a very important milestone but we are yet very far from achieving our goals. After seeming to be at the top of the ladder in our senior year, we must prepare ourselves to return to the bottom rung and gradually work our way once again to the top as we tackle the challenge which awaits us.

In these hard economic times, my advice to all of us as the graduating Class of 1983 is to tackle the unknown, strive to reach our potentials and most important, be patient and don't get discouraged.

Good luck in all that awaits you!

A Brief History

In 1873, the Sisters of Charity established Mount Saint Vincent Academy, an institution which provided elementary and secondary education.

As post-secondary education became more important, the Mount reacted by signing a 25 year agreement with Dalhousie in 1914. This allowed the Mount to offer the first two years of a bachelor program while the final two years and degree were given by Dalhousie.

In 1925 Mount Saint Vincent College was awarded the right to grant degrees in arts, science and music.

26 years later, in January, 1951, the Motherhouse and entire college were destroyed by fire. But not for long, by September of the same year, the new Evaristus Hall was ready for students.

The coat of arms for Mount Saint Vincent University is based on the Seton family in recognition of Saint Elizabeth Seton's role as the foundress of the Sisters of Charity. The order founded, owns, and participates in the Administration of the University. The emblem's three silver crescents on the blue shield within a "treasure" is identical to that used by the province of Nova Scotia are represented. The three peaks on the shield signify the name of the University, "Mount Saint Vincent." On the upper portion of the shield is a book of learning, between the maple leaves - the emblem of Canada. The dove symbolizes the Holy Spirit, indicating that Knowledge is the only means to wisdom, the highest gift of God.

The colors of the shield are blue and gold - gold symbolizing the divinity of our Lord and the blue for our Blessed Lady. The periphery of the coat of arms is colors of royal blue and azure, the dual blues of Mount Saint Vincent University.

In January 1971, the Board of Governors approved the design of a new symbol for Mount Saint Vincent University that would replace the Heraldic Crest previously used to represent the university.

The design was the culmination of five months of work by Eagles and Radcliffe Ltd., of Dartmouth, Nova Scotia. The symbol combines the letters "M" and "V" and "U" to provide a distinctive pattern that is visually appealing and easily remembered. The addition of two circles above this pattern immediately adds warmth and the awareness that the symbol portrays people as well.

This, it was felt, was the essence of a university; young people who are working together towards common objectives.

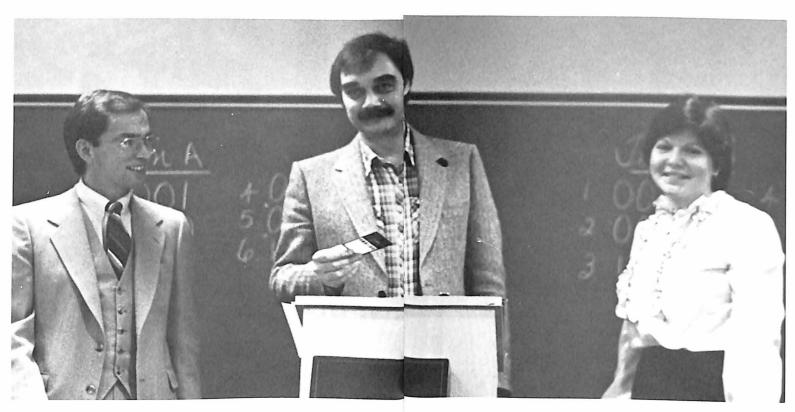

The University motto is "Veritus ad deum ducit" which is translated as "truth leads to God." The motto asserts the religious concerns which inspired the foundation of the University.

Faces of the Mount

First Moments

It All Starts Here

Yes, this is where it all begins. Boy were those freshmen nervous. Registration isn't as bad as all the upper class people make it out to be. This year, registration ran smoothly as freshmen to potential graduates paraded through on September 8 to 10.

Getting Around

The ALUMNI BUS TOUR of Halifax is an event many people look forward to every year to initiate new students to the city. Two new events this year were the ACTIVITY EXTRAVAGANZA including a beach volleyball game and the FOLK EVENING which ended pleasantly with a sing-song around the piano.

Frosh Wash

The Frosh Wash for Terry Fox is a car wash held annually at the Mount. Odd type apparel usually manages to find its way to the event. This year the wash was successful on raising approximately $150 and no one went home dry!

The first morning of orientation week starts off early with the PRESIDENT'S WALK AND JOG followed by a pancake breakfast where the use of utensils is strictly prohibited.

President's Assembly

Later on in orientation week everyone meets Dr. Fulton again at the President's Assembly which gives Dr. Fulton the opportunity to welcome everyone to the university for another year. Following which everyone is treated to a scrumptious lunch of hotdogs and cookies.

22

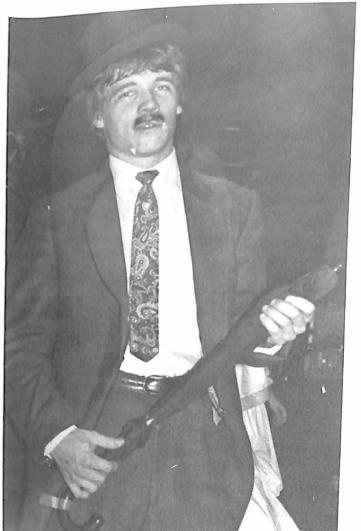

It Happens
Every Year

A Howling Night

October 29, saw many an interesting person (?) at the Multi-Purpose room in Rosaria. Mason Chapman and Loca Balloon were the night's entertainment for the Mount's second double decker event. The full moon of the night made everyone a little crazier than usual but that's all part of the holiday spirit.

Alumni Fall Fair

Every year the Alumni Association holds their fair for all past, present, and future students (and everyone else) to attend. This year's was as successful as all the others.

A Roman Evening

November 5 brought many customs from Ancient Rome to the Mount. Evaristus Hall, for the fourth consecutive year sponsored the event they are most famous for. In fact, this was probably the best one yet.

Welcome Back Week

January 10-14 held a new event in store for the Mount. The Athletics Office felt everyone would feel kind of blah after Christmas so they planned a week-long list of events for everyone to enjoy -- and enjoy we did.

Christmas by Candlelight

Exams are not the most pleasant memory of the Mount to take home at Christmas so think back a little before that: The beautiful candlelight service held in the Evaristus Chapel followed by a gourmet meal in the cafeteria. Everyone left in a warm, festive mood.

Evangeline "Evangeline - The Musical"

"Evangeline - The Musical" was the Mount's third world premier. Directed and written by Robert Mariner, the play depicts French Acadian families being torn from their communities. Ann Alteen and Jim Petrie held the lead roles and along with the rest of the cast did a marvelous job.

1983 Winter Carnival

Winter Carnival this year was one of the best in years and most of the credit should go to co-chairpersons Evelyn Larkin and Nancy Weatherhead. The remainder of the credit should go to those who participated in all the activities such as the scavenger hunt, the gong show, the pup crawl and the grand finale sell out double decker with Terry Hatty. Thanks girls, it was a great week.

The Mount Playhouse

This is the second consecutive year for the Mount Playhouse which is the Maritimes only indoor-outdoor dinner/theatre/cabaret. The playhouse runs 3 nights a week for six consecutive weeks in the summer.

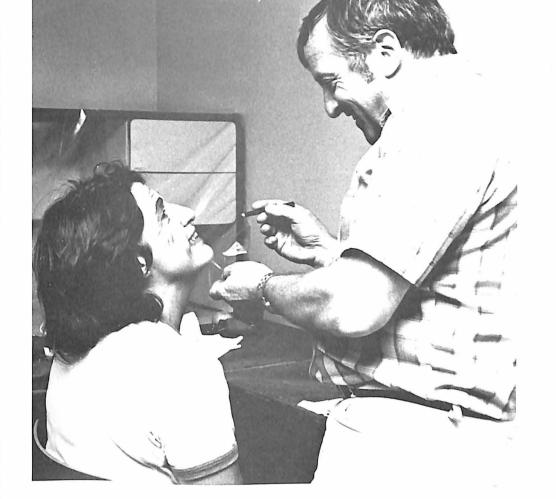

Each evening the guests are treated royally beginning with the soothing sounds of strolling musicians. After that they are treated to a "teaser" skit before the 3 course meal is served. During dinner a new singing group, "Vaniety Fair", provides delightful Broadway memories.

After dinner the main play is staged followed by a piano bar and dancing.

For anyone who has attended this evening, it is not one easily forgotten.

The success of this year's badminton team is a classic example of what excellent coaching can produce. Badminton coach, and coach of the year, Jim Grosvenor was directly responsible for the Mount winning the conference in this sport and sending five representatives to the Nationals in North Bay.

Soccer

Another MSVU team which season ended in disappointment and despair was the Soccer team. After finishing third in the regular season the Mount faced UCCB in the conference semi-finals. The Mount led the game 2-0 at the half but a goal by UCCB with less than a minute remaining in the contest tied the game at two. This tie led to penalty kicks where UCCB came away victorious. For the second year in a row the Mount had lost in overtime.

Hockey Team

After competing in the Dalhousie Intramural League, this year's hockey team advanced to the Conference finals. The Mount was scheduled to meet UCCB in the finals but due to adverse weather conditions the game was forfeited by the Mount's Athletic Department and the team lost the chance to join the Volleyball and Badminton teams at the Nationals.

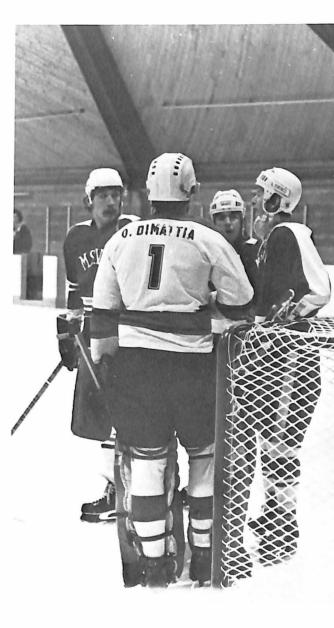

Sorry, no team picture available.

Women's Basketball

The Women's Basketball team this year was in many ways a coach's dream - the team did not understand what the word quit meant. They were defeated by the eventual conference champs, UCCB, in the semi-finals 74-48 but trailed by only eight points at one point in the contest. Their underdog status going into the game did not dampen their determination as foul trouble late in the game became their major enemy.

Men's Basketball

This year marked the first time the Mount has seen a men's basketball team. Although they did not compete in any league and played only exhibition games, the team added greatly to the sports scene at the Mount. Despite being small in number the team played with great enthusiasm. It is hoped that the team will compete in a recreation league next year as this year established a foundation to build on in the future.

Volleyball

For the second straight year, this team won the Nova Scotia Small College Conference and were rewarded with a trip to the nationals in Toronto. The team left for Toronto with a perfect record as they were undefeated until that point in their season. A Sixth place finish at the national championship shows a well coached, well disciplined team that the Mount should be proud of.

A Last Look

Senior Class Co-Presidents

Margaret Grant and Janet Mosley

This year's grad week was packed with exciting events. Through efficient planning everything ran smoothly. The graduating class of 1983 would like to thank Margie Grant and Janet Mosley for the time and effort they dedicated to this cause. Thanks girls, we all had fun.

Barbeques and Boating!

This year's grad week included a boat cruise and a softball game followed by a barbeque. The weather deterred many from playing softball but the BBQ was a great success. As for the boat cruise - it was a splash.

Every year the Home Economics Society holds a special ceremony for its grads. During this time a yellow rose is presented to each graduate. Also special society rings are presented to the graduates.

Yellow Rose Ceremony

These Grads Were Busy

Three events are traditions at the Mount during grad week. The Bacalaureate mass is a celebration of the graduates, the tree planting is the time when the graduating class makes a gift of a tree to the Mount, and the grad ball is when everyone lets down their hair and celebrates their accomplishments.

1983 Convocation

So this is the end of the road - well not quite; if you look around the corner it's just the beginning of another path. Convocation day is one of great satisfaction to all graduates. The feeling of walking across that stage to receive your diploma will never be matched again (except when the next degree is obtained).

STUDENT UNION

Fellow graduates, students, and most of all, friends,

At last we've finally reached the point where this book is in one piece and not in eight dozen envelopes scattered around the office. Putting this together was quite a task, but one that I have enjoyed and certainly learned a lot from. But it would never have happened without all the help and support from others.

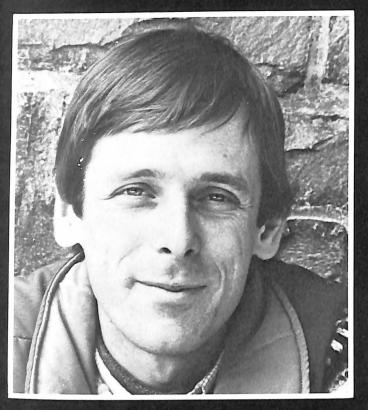

That seems to be a Mount characteristic. People are always there to support along the way in both good and bad times. The people are what make this University unique and ever so difficult to say good-bye. It is always difficult to leave a friend, but at graduation, even though it is a happy time, you also have to say good-bye to many friends which is not an easy task.

Which brings us back to the yearbook. We hope that in years to come you can glance through this book and all the wonderful memories of good times and good friends will come rushing back. If so, then we have certainly succeeded at what we set out to do.

With that thought in mind, I will leave you but only to return every time someone opens this book.

The Editor Thanks ...

... to all those who encouraged me when I first applied for this position and I really didn't know what I was getting myself into.

... to Alice MacKichan for answering my hundred and one questions when I first began.

... To Carol Ann Ross, Priscilla Poole, Anita Sundaram, and Karen Carlos for all the Saturdays they gave up to help put the book together.

... to Don Duggan for letting me into my office all the times I forgot my keys.

... to Evelyn Larkin for all the summer evenings she relinquished when it was deadline time and there was still 120 pages left to do.

... to Marie Croll, Frank Zinc and Graham Lavers who put up with my last minute demands for photographs.

and last but not least, to all my friends, and especially to David, for the support they gave me until the book finally went to print.

Thank-you all, Love, Sheri
